Which courses should I register for?
If you are taking the Demonstration of Ophthalmic Cognitive Knowledge (DOCK) examination, you should register for the PEAs you have selected for the DOCK examination. The DOCK examination consists of three sections: Core (required) and two PEAs of your choice. Note: you may choose to take two DOCK sections in all PEAs except Refractive Management/Intervention and Uveitis. For more information about the DOCK examination and to register for the DOCK examination, please contact the American Board of Ophthalmology www.abop.org.
If you are taking this course for a review, please choose those PEAs of interest to you.

Should I register for two days or three days?
If you are taking the course to prepare for the DOCK examination the number of days you select to register for depends on which sections you have elected to take for the DOCK examination. For example:
If you have elected to take the three DOCK examination sections in Core-required (one section); Cataract (one section); Glaucoma (one section), you should register for the 3-day course and attend the Cataract Course on Friday, Core Ophthalmic Knowledge on Saturday, and Glaucoma on Sunday.

If you have elected to take the three DOCK examination sections in Core-required (one section); Cataract (two sections); you should register for the 2-day course and attend the Cataract Course on Friday and Core Ophthalmic Knowledge on Saturday.

If you are taking this course for a review, please choose those PEAs of interest to you and register for the appropriate number of days.

May I register for two PEA courses on the same day i.e. two on Friday?
No, you must register for just one course on Friday and/or Sunday.

How long do the courses last and how many can I attend each day?
You may register for just one course each day. The courses run concurrently all day on Friday and Sunday from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and on Saturday the Core Ophthalmic Knowledge course runs from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
